

MERRILL LYNCH INVESTMENT ADVISORY PROGRAM

Guide to Tax Efficient Management Offerings

You should consult your tax and/or legal advisor prior to enrolling in any Tax Efficient Management Offerings, as well as on an ongoing basis, to determine whether the wash sale rules, the straddle rules, or other special tax rules could apply to your trading activity.

What is tax efficient investing?

Tax efficient investing is an approach that seeks to maximize the after-tax value of investments held in a taxable account by using one or more tax management activities.

In the Merrill Lynch Investment Advisory Program (IAP), you may select one or more tax efficient management offerings as part of your long-term investment strategy in your Managed and Custom Managed Strategy accounts. Depending upon the tax efficient management offering you select, tax efficient management approaches may include activities that seek to:

Sell securities that have a loss and invest proceeds in strategy-aligned replacement securities for at least 30 days (“tax loss harvesting”)

Engage in tax lot management by prioritizing sales of securities that result in the lowest tax cost

Prioritize the sale of positions with the largest percentage of unrealized losses, while selling positions with the largest percentage of unrealized gains last

Defer short-term capital gains by restricting sales of individual tax lots with sizable unrealized gains that are approaching long-term holding status within 31 days or less

Apply wash sale protection at the account level in an effort to avoid the disallowance of losses due to the wash sale rules

Tax efficient management approaches are generally applied only to investments that are held in taxable accounts. Tax-deferred accounts, like an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or traditional 401(k), and tax-exempt accounts are ineligible for these tax efficient management approaches.

Whichever tax efficient management offerings you select, remember to also consider how each investment can help you pursue your diversification, liquidity and overall investment goals — at a level of risk you are comfortable with. Tax efficiency is only one of the range of factors you should consider for your investment approach.

If you have questions about tax efficient investing, how it may help you pursue your goals or want to evaluate the options available to you, talk to your Merrill Advisor.

Potential benefits of proactive tax efficient management

The goal of the tax efficient management offerings is to seek to enhance the after-tax value of accounts enrolled in eligible strategies while keeping investments aligned with their stated objectives. These tax efficient management offerings may offer you the ability to:

- Harvest losses and use them to offset certain long-term or short-term capital gains.
- Potentially reduce the overall amount of gains realized during the year through portfolio rebalancing.
- Take a more systematic approach to executing portfolio transactions in a tax-efficient manner.
- More efficiently manage your taxable investment accounts by delegating the responsibility to us or a third-party investment manager.

What tax efficient management offerings are available in IAP?

You have choices in how you invest in a tax-efficient manner, including:

Tax Efficient Management Overlay Services (TEM Overlay Services)

You can select one or more tax efficient management overlay services that will automatically apply tax loss harvesting and/or other tax management approaches to eligible investments throughout the year.

(See page 4 and the individual Term Sheets for more details)

Tax Efficient Management Style Manager Strategies (TEM Style Manager Strategies)

You can choose to invest directly in professionally managed investment strategies that include tax management as part of their larger investment approach.

(See page 5 and the Strategy Profiles for more details)

In addition to these choices, you may continue to request ad-hoc tax harvesting trades, at any time, through your Merrill Advisor if you wish to seek to realize additional gains or losses in your portfolio.

Selecting the right approach, or combination of approaches, depends on the investments you hold as well as other personal considerations. Some tax efficient management approaches can only be used with certain types of investments. Eligibility details are outlined in the applicable TEM Overlay Service Term Sheets and/or TEM Style Manager Strategy Profiles. Note: Certain advisors may only offer access to designated managed investment strategies based on qualifications and our policies.

To understand your options and evaluate which approach, or approaches, may be in your best interest, speak to your Merrill Advisor. You should consult your tax and/or legal advisor before selecting a tax efficient management offering, and on a regular basis after selection. Merrill and its affiliates do not provide legal, tax or accounting advice. You should consult your legal and/or tax advisors before making any financial decisions.

TEM Style Manager Strategies

Accounts enrolled in IAP may select available Style Manager Strategies that have been designated by Merrill as Tax Efficient Management Style Manager Strategies or TEM Style Manager Strategies. A TEM Style Manager Strategy is a managed strategy that provides tax efficient management as an objective of its portfolio management investment approach. In this type of strategy, the investment manager undertakes various tax efficient management approaches, such as seeking to opportunistically sell securities that have a loss and invest proceeds in strategy-aligned replacement securities for at least 30 days after the date of sale.

The following is a list of TEM Style Manager Strategies that are currently available through IAP.

Considerations before electing a TEM Offering

There are risks and limitations associated with TEM Offerings. These limitations may result in tax-inefficient trades and wash sales. These risks and limitations are discussed in the IAP Brochure in the Tax Matters section and TEM Style Manager Strategy Profiles.

It is your obligation to monitor transactions across all of your accounts to identify any wash sales or straddles that may occur within or across your accounts and you are responsible for all tax liabilities attributable to the disallowance or deferral of any losses pursuant to the wash sale rules or of any deferral under the straddle rules. Furthermore, tax efficient management offerings may not be appropriate for your financial situation. If you are taxed at lower aggregate marginal income tax rates, you may be less likely to benefit from these offerings.

You should consult your tax and/or legal advisor prior to enrolling in any TEM Offerings, as well as on an ongoing basis, to determine whether the wash sale rules, the straddle rules, or other special tax rules could apply to your trading activity.

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
